The

Rose ..... look'd in - - to the win - dow, ..... One Rose ..... look - ing in at the win - dow, ..... For Rose ..... look - ing in at the win - dow, ..... And Rose ..... look - ing in at the win - dow, ..... On bleak No - vem - - ber' morn, ..... 'Twas a ling' - - ring ev' - - ry con - di - tion of life, ..... In days of con - pleasant it is to see; ..... In the Pal - ace of age in his Autumn of years; ..... When the day of his ray ..... of summer,                      The wreck of the tent and en - joyment,                      In hours with pomp and pleasure,                      In the cot tage of tra - vel is darkend,                      And the star of its year to a - dorn; .....                      The beau - ty and grace of the bit - ter - ness rise; .....                      The voice of a friend in af - low de - gree, .....                      Where e'er there's the smile of a set - ting up - pears, .....                      The past is en - dear'd to re - blossom,                      Spread glad - ness and light thro' the

- fliction,                      His kind - ness in trou - ble's dull woman,                      As bright as a beam from a -
- membrance,                      By mercies' by er - rors for - room, And the Rose look - ing in - - to the day, 'Tis the Rose look - ing in at the bove, There's a Rose look - ing in at the giv'n, And the Rose that looks in at the win - dow Dis - per - - ses No - - vem - - ber gloom. win - dow That cha - ses dark thoughts a - - way. win - dow And fil - ling the dwelling with love. win - dow Is Hope that looks up to Hea - - ven.
